

The insurance claims process consists of 5 stages, which are the Gather, Submit, Review, Approval, and Release.

The Gather page collects and uploads all required documents and accident evidence in one place.

The Submit page securely sends the completed claim to the insurance provider in seconds.

The Review page lets users track their claim status and check for any required updates in real time.

The Approval page notifies users once their claim has been approved and is ready for processing.

The Release page confirms that the claim payout or benefit has been successfully issued to the user.
