

There is a theory about human behavior —
when most people make a mistake, they don't accept it immediately.
Instead, they try to hide it, escape from it, or blame others.

Based on this give me a tittle card for my short film